Overview

- As a result of our continuous strive to improve our products, we hereby inform you about the review of our modular frames for hoods & housings 24B size, with the purpose to optimize the coupling between male & female inserts.
- As shown by the picture on the left, the change will slightly affect a few details of the product form: 1. The polarization keys for fixing the inserts (called "windows") have been resized; 2. The height of the ground contacts seats have been increased; 3. The mobile part has been stiffened with the addition of ribs.
- This changes will result in a better coupling between male and female, so we can say that the function will be positively affected.
