Reason For Change	Supplier Changes To Raw Material
-------------------	----------------------------------

Change Description	This is to inform you that the supplier is moving production of the HSAutoLink™ product family raw cable from Belden Huizhou, China, to the Belden Suzhou, China facility. The reason for the change is that the business has been discontinued at the Belden Huizhou China plant. This is not a material or supplier change – only the mfg location of our current supplier will change. Molex has tested the new cable to ensure there is no difference in performance. Cables from the new Suzhou mfg plant will have the Molex part number printed on the jacket, with the exception of the USB cable, it will remain unmarked. Assemblies using the cable from the Suzhou plant will be identified by a date code on the label and boxes marked as necessary.
