Page 1/3

Dear Customer,

We are ending production of the D-Sub press-in termination range

1. Concerned Part Numbers:

See page 3

2. Reason for termination:

Over recent years there has been a continuous and progressive reduction in demand for D-Sub press in connectors. Many customer have migrated to Through Hole Reflow (THR) and SMT versions, as they allow for soldering to take place at the same time as other components, rather than requiring the additional step of press fitting.

3. Possible replacement products:

It is possible to replace press-in D-Dubs with other PCB termination options. In addition to traditional Wave Soldering we offer THR and SMT versions. For further information please use our e-business on HARTING-usa.com, or contact your HARTING Sales Representative or Tech Support team at TechSupportUS@HARTING.com
