Product Change Class: D

Description of Change:
The Pulsar Edge Controller which is used with the CPL product line is Rohs5 compliant and GE has made an Rohs6 version available for purchase. GE introduced an Rohs6 version mid-year 2015 and the two versions have been selling concurrently.
On June 1, 2016 GE will stop selling the Rohs5 version and will continue to sell only the Rohs6 version.
The Rohs5 version which is being discontinued is CP841A_3C3R commcode CC109145331. The Rohs6 version which can be purchased now and will continue after June 1 is CP841A_3C3R_S commcode 150032047.
The new code also supports secure communications protocols. Functionality and User Interfaces remain the same. GE encourages all customers to switch over to the new code as the Rohs5 version may not be sold after June 1. Samples can be made available for customer review and qualification. Please contact your GE rep for more information.
