Description for Product Change Notification
The 4- and 5-pos. shielded M12 connectors with screw connection have been redesigned. The metal components have been swapped out for turned parts. The external dimensions remain unchanged for the "straight" version. However, the external dimensions have changed for the "angled" version. The shielded connectors have an updated cable gland. In the new concept, the cable seal and the clamping cage are combined in a single module making it easier to assemble. The external cable diameter range remains unchanged.
